Stripes

They're a little bit nautical, a little bit preppy, and a whole lot polished. Try just a taste with a parallel-lined tote or espadrilles, or go all-out with a banded dress or blazer.

Cotton-linen blazer, Mango, $100; mango.com.

your LOOK ALL-STARS

Geometric Pattern

Let a strong print take center stage by combining it with a solid top or bottom in complementary hues. Or play it subtle: When the design decorates an accessory—voilà—it brings instant depth and interest to whatever else you have on.

Polyester-acetate top, Elizabeth and James, $265; barneys.com.

Leather dress, Iris & Ink, $455; theoutnet.com.

Leather skirt, Opening Ceremony, $575; openingceremony.us.

Leather

You may already have a biker jacket or calfskin pants. But what makes leather current is the feminine shades and cuts you'll find in pieces ranging from pastel shells to full-skirted dresses.

Faux-leather top, Tibi, $250; tibi.com.

Sparkle

The old adage advised just a dash of dazzle, but new-school style delivers sequins and crystals across entire shifts and shirts. The only rule that still holds: Wear this eye-catcher on your clothing or your extras, not both, unless they're an exact match.

Beaded silk crêpe dress, Rebecca Taylor, $995; at Bergdorf Goodman.

Embellished cotton shirt, J. Crew, $198; jcrew.com.

Embellished polyester blouse, Diane von Furstenberg, $425; 646-486-4800.

Glass stone and enamel-coated metal necklace, Ann Taylor, $58; anntaylor.com.

Embellished PVC sandals, Express, $60; express.com.

Cherry

One of the standout colors of the season, juicy red on a clutch or pumps injects life into basic black or navy. Or go bold and wear the hot hue top to bottom. You'll attract major attention—the good kind.

Cotton top, Maje, $245; at Maje.

White Lace

Sweet, sure, but this fabric is also super-fresh when the weave is oversize. We love the white-on-white effect, but vary the materials. Lace everything can read as bridal.

Animal Print

Cheetah, leopard, tiger—jungle-cat markings should be considered a neutral and worn with the same ease. It's a touch that can instantly make an outfit sexier, but also a little more refined. Razer!

Faux-calf-hair sandals, Nine West, $69; at Nine West.

SELENA GOMEZ

Cotton-viscose trousers, 3.1 Phillip Lim, $425; at Neiman Marcus.

Paperstraw clutch, H&M, $13; at select H&M stores.

Cotton vest,
Dries Van Noten,
$1,025;
704-366-0388.

Bold Florals

No shrinking violets here. This bunch of blooms brings attitude. The painterly feel of the flowers makes a pleasant contrast with the defined lines of skinny trousers or a pencil skirt.

Silk-satin and leather heels,
Charles David,
$230; charles
