

Jesse Randall
Loeffler Randall

COFFEE
Decaf iced Americano,
a lot of whole milk,
no sugar

FAVORITE COFFEE SHOP
Jack's Wife Freda
on Lafayette. "Love the
to-go cups with little illustrations."

COFFEE TALK

CALVIN KLEIN USED
A PANTONE CHIP
TO ENSURE THE PERFECT CUP.
THESE LESS EXTREME NYC DESIGNERS SHARE THEIR DAILY BREW.

According to an article published in The New York Times Magazine, among the various utensils and equipment at the chef's disposal in Calvin Klein's kitchen is a Pantone square referencing the exact shade (presumably the perfect neutral beige) the master takes his daily caffeine dose. Which got us to thinking: Do the minds of all fashion people work this way? (Answer? No.) And more importantly, should we be bringing a paint chip to our local barista? (Good luck with that.) We surveyed five women whose designs we covet to find out how they take their coffee. —Megan Deem

Rachel Roy
Rachel Roy

COFFEE
Splash of almond milk,
one packet of
Sugar In The Raw

FAVORITE
COFFEE SHOP
Birch Coffee
on 27th Street

Carol Lim
Kenzo & Opening Ceremony

COFFEE
Iced black, no sugar

FAVORITE COFFEE SHOP
Nolita Mart & Espresso Bar on Mott Street.
“They serve Stumptown, which is a nice alternative when we can’t make it to the Stumptown location at the Ace Hotel.”

PANTONE®
7589 C

MORNING:

PANTONE®
16-1341 TPX
BUTTERUM

AFTERNOON:

PANTONE®
19-1341 TPX
COFFEE BEAN

Gaby Basora

Tucker by Gaby Basora

COFFEE

Morning: steamed milk, no sugar. Afternoon: black with a sliver of cake.

FAVORITE COFFEE SHOP

Morning: It's a tie between Bel-Ami on 68th and Madison and Chocolate Bar in the West Village.
Afternoon: Café Sabarsky on Fifth Avenue.

Maria Cornejo

Zero + Maria Cornejo

COFFEE

Skim milk and sugar

FAVORITE COFFEE SHOP

Cafe Angelique on Bleecker Street

PANTONE®
18-1130 TPX
AZTEC

