

5 STEPS TO GORGEOUS

Make the most of all your features with these simple tricks. By Megan Deem BIGGER, BRIGHTER EYES “I always start with Lumify Eye Drops [$14.99],” says makeup artist and Dior ambassador Sabrina Bedrani. “They’re the best eyedrops to get rid of redness, and they also make your eyes brighter.” Next, she applies a light, shimmery shadow all over the lid, followed by a darker color on the outer corners. “Having a light base creates a nice dimension that makes the eye look larger, even when you blend a deeper or more vibrant color on top,” Bedrani says. Finish by adding two coats of black mascara, such as Physicians Formula Organic Wear FakeOut Mascara ($10.49).

PLUMPER LIPS According to makeup artist Charlotte Tilbury, “Lip liner is a girl’s best friend.” Starting at the outer corners of your mouth, trace the pencil just outside your natural lip line. “This will help cheat a fuller pout, create symmetry to the lips, and stop lipstick from bleeding,” she explains. In order to amplify your smile, Tilbury suggests selecting a liner and lipstick that mimic the natural shade of your lips.

SCULPTED CHEEKS Using a warm, natural shade of contour powder, like Charlotte Tilbury Filmstar Bronze & Glow ($68; shop BAZAAR.com. ) “suck in your cheeks and follow the hollow!” Tilbury says. Once you’re done, go over your work with a large brush and “blend, blend, blend,” she says.

FULLER BROWS “The key to keeping your brows looking natural is not to overdraw or overfill them,” says Bedrani, who recommends the ultrafine Dior Diorshow Brow Styler in 001 Universal Brown ($29). She says the pencil works on almost everyone. “Draw light strokes going from bottom to top in the same direction as the hair.” Bedrani ends by brushing brows up with gel.

VOLUMINOUS HAIR For a full, bouncy style, skip the silky blowout. “You lose volume that way,” says Kérastase Paris celebrity hairstylist Jennifer Yepez. “Instead when I dry I leave hair a bit fluffy—not frizzy—but just so I maintain the volume at the roots.” A common mistake people make when going for big hair, Yepez says, is not using enough product: “Ensure that it goes all over, not just at the top of your head. I always apply my mousse or volume spray from root to mid-shaft.” For lift that lasts, reach for Kérastase V.I.P. Volume in Powder Texturizing Spray ($28). ■

BEAUTY BAZAAR
Try Essie Gel Couture in Lady in Red for a classic shade that won't chip ($11.50).

MONIKA ROBL/TRUNK ARCHIVE