Impress for LESS

Stylist Heidi Bivens has worked her magic with stars such as Charlotte Gainsbourg and Chloë Sevigny. We asked her to create a unique outfit from pieces under $100

STYLE Q&A

Is there one item of clothing a woman shouldn't live without?

A go-to party dress—but don't wait until you need one to start looking. Right now, for really festive occasions, I love silhouettes with a low or sweetheart neckline and a '50s feel.

What's your most recent fashion score?

A pair of Céline heels. Their shape is similar to the yellow sandals pictured here, but mine are a bordeaux shade with gold-buckle details. The shoes were expensive but a good investment. I'll wear them constantly, whether with jeans, shorts, or dresses.

How else would you style this outfit?

For a smart day look, throw a black blazer or suit jacket over the dress and add a long chain pendant. Then slip on some open-toe black lace wedges with ankle ties. A shopping bag-style tote in a deep orange will provide a splash of color and be roomy enough for your laptop.
